

The RBS's Brand New Headquarter Offices in the USA.

Located in up-market Stamford, Connecticut, the gleaming new steel and glass headquarters of RBS in America was recently completed.

Investment bankers and traders have now moved in from numerous offices in Stamford, in Greenwich, Connecticut and New York City

Visitors are greeted by tartan-clad receptionists.

There is a luxurious outside terrace.

There is a gym where bankers can purchase massages.

The traders' room is the size of an airport hanger and holds 1000 people.

The building cost $500 million.

RBS belongs 84% to the British taxpayer who seems oblivious of this monumental expense over the ocean.

This is not made up. It is true. You can check it on the web.
