

No Prizes for Guessing Who.

Of whom was it said:

‘he is a great and effective warrior’

‘a great statesman’

‘a man who brilliantly led his country’

‘he has lifted our hearts and reminded us how powerful real eloquence can be’

‘history will look on him as one of the most successful Prime Ministers ever’.

No, it’s not Winston Churchill.

It’s Tony Blair.

The first four claims were made by the American Catholic Association, and the last by one of his pals.
